AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

On page 12, please replace the paragraph beginning with "A package of" as follows:

A package of interlabial pads in which a receptacle has a supply of pads therein. The receptacle has an opening through which a pad may be withdrawn for use when needed, and a reclosable closure for closing the opening. The closure is closed for carrying the pads in hygienic condition and for continued carrying in hygienic condition of the pads remaining in the receptacle after withdrawal of a pad. The receptacle is a bag having front and back walls joined at the sides and bottom with the opening at the top. Press-fit members extend across the walls adjacent the opening to provide the closure.
